

Hearts of Horse Haven

To advocate for, educate and give hope to equine across the Volunteer State

Giving Thanks! As we close out the year, we wanted to let you all know how thankful we are to our generous supporters and cheerleaders. It is because of you that lives have been saved and changed. Whether it was financially or through prayers, you stepped up when we had a need. Your donations allowed us to get four miniature studs and three horses gelded. I am thrilled to say all are doing great and earlier this year were rehomed. It is because of horses such as them that we are reminded how important our mission is which keeps us focused and steadfast. If you would like to join our team of fosters, trainers or adopters please let us know by sending an email to: heartsofhorsehaven@gmail.com

Program Success!

In 2020, we were blessed to take in this gorgeous horse named Freedom. He came to us with little knowledge of his background. He was taken in with a large herd of feral minis when the owner was not able to provide adequately for them. Freedom was the lucky one. He was out in a large pasture so was able to fend for himself quite well. Not knowing his training, we decided to send him off to a local professional who evaluated him for two weeks. Under saddle, he was a little rusty but did great and was found to be very quiet and wanting to please. He has been accepted into the Saddle Up Therapeutic Riding program in Franklin, TN and will be heading there for evaluation.

Please lift Freedom up in prayer that he finds his purpose and gets accepted long term.

Collaboration in 2020!

Whether we are working with law enforcement, veterinarians, equine owners or other equine welfare organizations across the state we try to remain focused on just one thing, “the horses”. Whether it is by offering our free Equine Care Booklet to those working in the field of investigations or by finding and offering solutions to owners, county officials or other welfare organizations that is our main objective. By developing the Tennessee Equine Welfare Alliance our goal is to bring resources and opportunities to those who are working in the trenches everyday giving a voice to the equine in need. Sharing ideas, resources and solutions through collaboration. Whether it be through training, placement or help with transport or even holding when one facility is too crowded, everyone will be there for each other. Helping with the needs of one another to better the life of our Tennessee equine in need. Please check out the TEWA website at <https://www.tnequinewelfare.org>. Bringing like-minded people from across the state together to build a strong alliance for our equine in need.

Update on Stevie!

We have had a lot of request about updates on Stevie who was one of the four “stud muffins”. We are unsure what caused his blindness but it does not seem to slow him down any. He has settled in well in his new home with his girlfriend Ms. Minnie who helps watch out for him. They enjoy their time together just roaming around being a horse. He has been a little more trying then the other three about picking up his feet but we are confident he will overcome this obstacle as he has all the others.

The Need for Your Support - Caring for a horse is expensive. Your generous donations help us to pay for farrier, veterinarian care, medicines, feed, hay and more for the animals in our care. As our services and intake numbers increase, your continued support is always appreciated.

Our plea to you this Holiday Season is to join Hearts of Horse Haven in making a difference in the lives of horses and horse owners across our state. Your gift allows us the opportunity to fill the void that might otherwise be overlooked and will help us by providing much-needed food, shelter, and medical care for these magnificent animals or an owner in crisis.

Winter months are the most difficult for horses. Cases of neglect increase and by sending your tax-deductible donation today it enables us to be prepared for when horses are in need.

Sincerely,

Nina L. Margetson
